3. Curriculum

- Centre Priorities/Statement of Purpose.

The curriculum supports children's learning and development through play and exploration with a range of developmentally appropriate activities and expectations. It fosters the development of the individual child's life skills, competencies, interests and independence. We value the partnership with families, and the sharing of information for the child's development. The provision of an inclusive curriculum acknowledges the value of diversity. We cater for all children including special right children such as Broad Spectrum Austistic Disorder, Down's syndrome, and Cerebral Palsy. We receive DECD funding to support a cluster group (average of 3 children) with learning difficulties.

The centre has used the DECD Early Intervention and Attendace Grant to respond to the need for the children. Health checks (hearing and vision) for children are conducted at the centre.

- ◆ Quality Improvement Plan.

The centre has developed a plan to support children in their learning and developmental journey. The children's wellbeing, early literacy and attendance at the kindergarten are the main priority at present. Children are encouraged to use problem-solving skills through modelling and direct teaching for conflict resolution and interaction with peers. Oral language is a focus using a variety of language opportunities daily and verbal interactions to support and encourage all children to express themselves succinctly and clearly. We also have a focus on regular attendance at the centre to promote positive self-esteem and an interest in learning.

Our Early Years Literacy plan revolves around children's oral literacy and their use of language to encourage self-esteem and self-help skills.
